A new concept in entertaining has arrived.

Whether it be for corporate hospitality, team building or general celebrations Movers and Shakers can provide an interactive tailor made experience for you to enjoy.

Interactive cocktail making events for team building and corporate hospitality

The dull, predictable world of corporate hospitality has never looked so much fun. Forget the cliché of mundane office chat over dinner and drinks, Bar Soba's 'Movers and Shakers' evenings provide the perfect opportunity to unwind and entertain your visiting clients whilst treating them to something extra special!

Our Movers and Shakers package is a fun, interactive game show style event, designed for team building, hospitality or simply rewarding staff. Guests learn how to make cocktails and the tricks of the bar tending trade taught by our award winning in house mixologists. The events can be tailor-made to suit group requirements and can either commence or finish up with a delicious two or three course meal.

PROGRAMME OF EVENTS

Each Movers and Shakers event on arrival guests are presented with some delicious reception cocktails from our uniquely designed cocktail menu, and separated into teams ready to compete. Our own team of mixologists will then introduce themselves and the aims of the programme, performing a flair show to dazzle your guests. The team building activities are split into rounds, with teams competing for cocktail related prizes.

This knowledge all culminates in the final "shake it up round" where teams create their own cocktail recipes and name them. Perfect for team building, or client hospitality, this fun activity is suitable for mixed groups, including a non-alcoholic mocktail option for those that do not drink alcohol and can be completely tailor made to your own specifications to be as simple or as elaborate as you desire. This fun event can take place at a venue of your choice from our mobile cocktail bar, or from one of our own bars, which are sure to provide a memorable atmosphere, for an evening's entertainment everyone will be talking about for months to come!

Groups can opt for an in-house service whereby a team of experts will visit your home, office or venue of your choice with a full kit and mobile cocktail bar.
